

Core Module 1

Like A Boss

Business & Career

1.0 Introduction

Welcome to the first chapter of the Face Reading Academy, student! In this chapter, we'll be going through the topic 'Like A Boss'. We will learn about using Face Reading for career purposes. First off, what makes a boss a boss?

As the image shows, a boss generally has these 5 qualities:

- | | |
|---------------------------|--|
| 1. Influence | A boss must be capable of influencing others to believe in their mindset. As the saying goes, 'you can lead a horse to water but you cannot force it to drink'. You must have the capability to influence people to believe in your vision, not just kick them along the path. |
| 2. Disciplined | A boss must be disciplined. He/she cannot waver on their path, and they must have the determination to stick on their vision without getting distracted or taking short-cuts. |
| 3. Go-Getter | A boss must be constantly aiming for greater heights. They cannot be content to continue working at their current position. Otherwise, their company and team will remain stagnant. |
| 4. Visionary | A boss must have a vision of where he/she wants to be in the end, so that they can create plans and strategies to reach their goals. |
| 5. Result-oriented | At the end of the day, the only thing that matters to a company is the results. A person who is hard-working but cannot produce results will not be a net positive for a company. |

So, how do we use Face Reading to see these 5 factors? We will be exploring this question along with the following topics.

The 4 sub-topics we will be covering in today's module are:

- 1. Identifying Entrepreneurial Traits from Youth
- 2. What Sort of Boss Are You?
- 3. The Iron Lady – Features of a Go-Getting Businesswoman
- 4. Employees of the Year

And one bonus topic – Faces That Attract Wealth

Let's begin.

Note: For more examples of the features explained in this module, please refer to the video.*

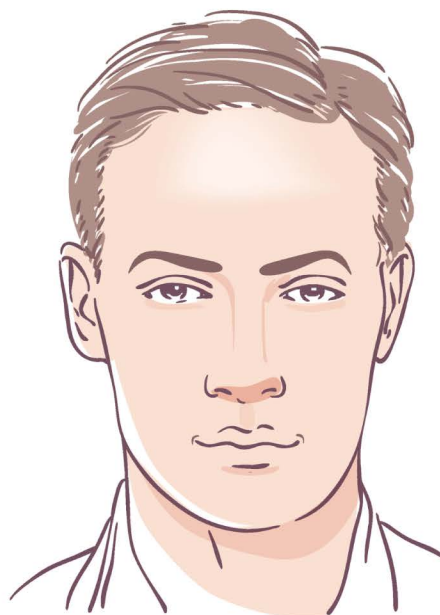

2.0 Identifying Entrepreneurial Traits from Youth

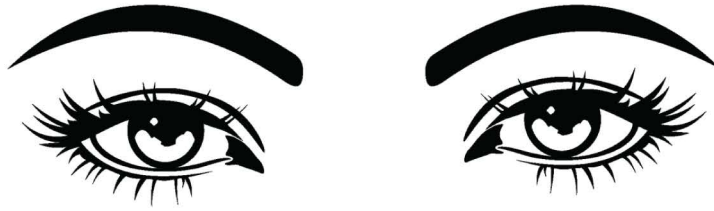

In this section, we will explore using Face Reading to see Entrepreneurial qualities on people while they are still young. The 3 areas of interest on this section are the Forehead, Eyebrows and the Mouth.

The Forehead should be full and fleshy. This represents a person who has good leadership and the capacity to think clearly.

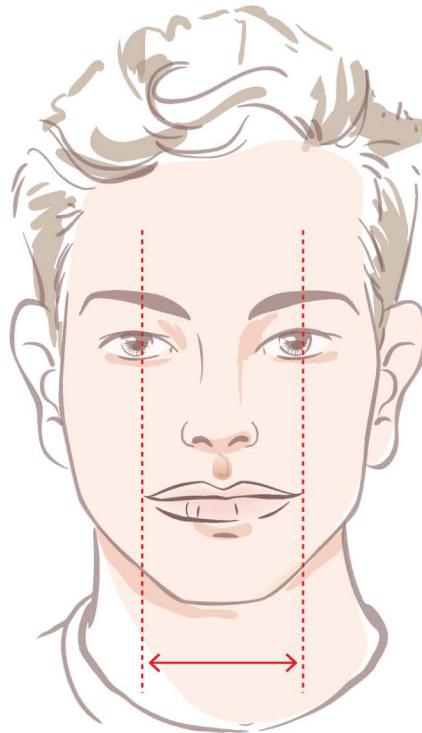

Here's an example:

The Eyebrows should be gentle, curved around the eyes, and elegant. This represents a person who has great vision and leadership.

The Mouth should be big. The bigger the mouth, the more influential the person is. Here's how to measure the mouth:

3.0 What Sort of Boss Are You?

3.1 The 'Transformational' Leader

The transformational leaders are those capable of raising other people. They are the ones who create more exceptional leaders in the company. These types of people can be identified by looking at the Forehead, Chin, and the Cheeks & Ears.

The Forehead should be slightly bulging, fleshy and broader. This represents a person who has good leadership and is able to put more importance on other people.

The Chin should be broad on a squarish face, which represents a person who has a lot of support from his employees.

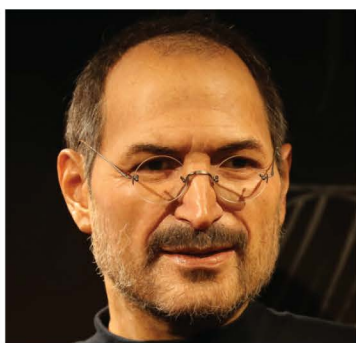

The Cheeks should be large and the Ears should be fleshy. This represents a person who has the authority to get people to follow him/her and the ability to absorb knowledge.

3.2 The 'Inspirational' Leader

The inspirational leaders are those who inspire people to act by being the one in front. They are always the one at the frontlines, leading by example. These types of people can be found by looking at the Nose, Eyebrows & Eyes.

The Nose should be large and straight, covering one-third of the face. This represents a person who has great self-confidence in their opinions.

The Eyebrows should be growing upwards, which represents an optimistic and positive person.

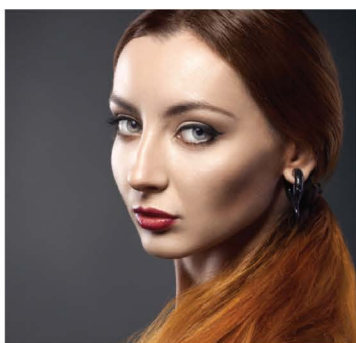

The Eyes should have their tail-ends go upwards. This represents a person who is able to inspire others to fulfill their potential.

3.3 The Bad Leaders

Timestamps: 32:20 to 37:29

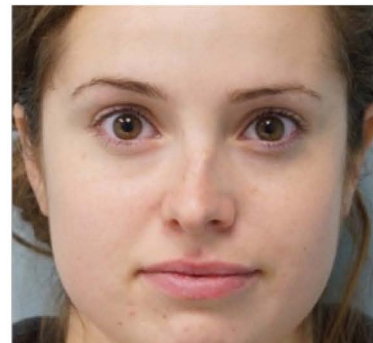

Finally, this section will deal with the 'bad leaders', or those that you won't want to work under. They might call themselves bosses, but they possess qualities that makes them undesirable people to work for. These types of bosses can be found by looking at their Cheekbones & Chins, Mouth & Nose.

The Cheekbones of bad bosses are normally high-set and coupled with a Chin that is pointy and fleshless. This represents a person who wants authority and power but has no followers. He/she will not be able to inspire others.

The Mouth of a bad boss is normally small & crooked, which represents a person who cannot control what they say. This could lead to the wrong thing said at the wrong time.

It is also bad if a bad boss has a dipping nose tip along with thin lips. This represents a person who is an opportunist, that comes at the cost of his/her relationships with other people.

4.0 The Iron Lady

Features of a Go-Getting Businesswoman

This section deals with the features of a lady who has the potential and the ability to successfully climb the corporate ladder. These sorts of ladies can be identified by looking at the Forehead, Nose, Cheekbones & Face Region.

The Forehead should be wide so that it covers between both hairlines. This represents a lady who has a good background, intelligence, and a lot of mentors and teachers around her.

The Nose should be straight, which represents a person who has good self-identity and self-confidence.

The Cheekbones should be strong, wide and fleshy. This indicates a person who desires power, authority, and the ability to make a difference in the world.

The Face Region, also known as the chin, should be long and low. This indicates a person who has the support of her fellow staff.

5.0 Employees of the Year

At the end of the day, every business needs good or even outstanding employees to do well. This section shows you how to spot these potential employees using Face Reading. The areas of interest for this subject are the 5 Officers - namely, the Nose, Ears, Eyes, Eyebrows & Mouth.

The Nose should be big and straight, which represents a person with integrity.

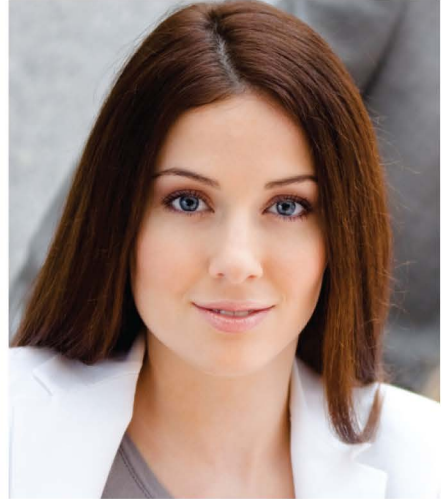

The Ears should be high-set, which represent a person with the ability and passion for learning.

The Mouth should be thick in both the upper and lower lips, which represents a compassionate, kind and nice person.

The Eyes should be long, big and bright. This represents a person with a vision for the future and knows how to achieve it.

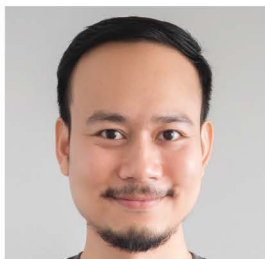

The Eyebrows should be willow-like, which represent a good nature and character of the person.

6.0 Bonus: Faces That Attract Wealth

Finally, the last topic that we'll be covering in this module is 'The Faces That Attracts Wealth'. These are the faces with the potential to create wealth, success and results for the company. These sorts of people can be identified through the following features: 'Forehead, Cheeks & Chin', 'Ears', 'Nose & Eyebrows'.

The Forehead should be full, the Cheeks should be fleshy and the Chin should be slightly protruding. All these features represent a person who has good analytical abilities, business acumen, courage and the ability to get people to listen to them.

The Ears should have fleshy earlobes with moles on the ears. This represents a person who is loyal and intelligent.

The Nose should be fleshy with a dipping nose tip and hidden nostrils. This shows a person who is able to generate opportunities for obtaining wealth.

The Eyebrows should give off the impression of a strong character. This indicates a person who is able to fight for what they want.
